LOVE'S CHAIR

The bond that links our souls together,
Will it last through stormy weather?
Will it molder and decay
As the long hours fleet away?
Will it stretch when time divides us,
When dark, weary days have tried us?
If it look too poor and slight,
Let us break the links tonight.

It was not forged by mortal hands
Or clasped with golden bars or bands.
Save thine and mine, no other eyes
The slender link can recognize.
In the bright light it seems to fade,
And it is hidden in the shade,
While heaven or earth has never heard
Or solemn vow or plighted word.

Yet what no mortal hand could make
No mortal power can ever break.
What words or vows could never do
No words or vows can make untrue.
And if to other hearts unknown
The dearer and the more our own
Because too sacred and divine
For other eyes save thine and mine.
—Edward Wilbur Mason in Womankind.

"REPLY PAID."

She had received a letter in the morning begging her to somehow procure him a little money. Things were going badly, and he had been ill. She thought of it all day long, having dispatched the little she had, and, for the thinking, things looked no better. Her brother had not enough to live upon, and there was an end of it. Fate was niggardly with them all. During the afternoon the girls came in and Mrs Hamlin. Mrs. Hamlin was always delightful and cheery. Her lovely dresses and sweet face and fragrant elegance reminded Maisie that at least she was the right person in the right place—with fitting surroundings and the beautiful things of life that all women instinctively claim as their right hers.

"Maisie, you look preposterously dejected. What is it? Are you in love with an anarchist, or is it only general aspirations toward the impossible?"

"No, I am not in love, but I am thinking of proposing to some one."

"Why?"

"Because I am in a hurry. Fred, you know, is frightfully hard up."

"But why don't you accept Mr. Howard, when he's so devoted, poor man?"

"That wouldn't be fair, because, you see, he is devoted, and I—no, I think a fat man with beard and glasses is the sort of thing—in the abstract."

"Oh, excellent in the abstract; protects you, is kind to you and gives you checks. In the concrete he"—

"Dear Mrs. Hamlin, don't. The matter is not discussable in the concrete."

"Fancy Maisie proposing!" said one of the girls.

"You don't know what I am capable of," returned Maisie.

"I'll dare you, Maisie," Mrs. Hamlin twinkled; "£20 on, and I'll give you a month."

"Twenty pounds!" repeated Maisie. And there was an odd sound in her voice.

"Twenty pounds."

"Done!" she said, to the astonishment of the room. "It's a bet!" Every one sat up and bristled with delighted curiosity. Maisie, of all people, who invariably treated her swains with a good tempered scorn that was the envy of her friends!

"I will do it now!" she went on excitedly. "Mabel, give me those telegraph forms. Of course I won't undertake to carry out the contract if any one accepts," she added.

"No, no; but a bona fide proposal!"

She then sat down and addressed seven telegrams and dispatched them by the maid. "Reply paid," she said. "And now we'll have tea."

"What have you done?" questioned Mrs. Hamlin.

"I have asked seven men to marry me."

"Maisie!"

"Well, seven gentlemen will hardly be able to think that I am pining for them all, and they'll exchange notes."

"Men never do that."

"Ah, what men never do that surely man always does," she laughed. "Honor with them is a collective virtue that has no application in the singular. You shall read the answers."

* * * * * * *

In due course of time the answers came. One by one the girl opened them before her expectant friends, who refused to go till all had come. "Regrets," quoted Maisie, holding up one with mock gravity. "Next, please. Ah, thank you, Susan! 'Sorry, previous engagement.' 'Alas! impossible!' 'Circumstances over which I have no control!' 'I would if I could, but I can't!' 'No!' That's rather impolite, and he really—well, one mustn't be kissed and tell. 'Twas so long ago too. You see, ladies, how devoted my lovers all are. But I have won my bet. Ah, here is another; one more polite refusal! No! 'Of course I am honored,'" she read. A crimson flush of shame spread over the girl's laughing face. "That's chivalrous of him," she said, trying to hide her embarrassment. "And now to invent a polite refusal to my own proposal."

* * * * * * *

Horace Sands was in chambers when Miss Maisie's telegram—reply paid—arrived. He was smoking a cigarette with Max Welby. They generally smoked together after lunch in a kind of sympathetic silence. He read it slowly, then went out of the room. On returning his friend noticed an expression of most pathetic woe upon his placid features, and such a hangdog look that he refrained from putting any questions from fear of intruding on private matters. Horace, however, after some fidgeting, said, "You know after all it's a dreadful thing, but what could a fellow do? She's a charming girl of course, but I didn't think of exactly—in fact, I am not a marrying man, you know. I never thought of marrying—don't know anything about it."

"If you'll explain what you are talking about, I may be able to understand."

"Well, the fact is, Miss Maisie wired and asked me, don't you know, and I, of course"—

"Asked you what?"

"Well, I suppose I oughtn't to say," he said, suddenly flushing crimson.

"Did she propose to you?" asked Welby with an incredulous look of amusement. "Answer paid too. The devil she did! And you have accepted?"

"What else would you have me do?" returned Sands stolidly.

* * * * * * *

For the next few days Horace Sands experienced a general sense of bewildering depression. He was an engaged man—to a very lovely girl, it was true, but nevertheless he was engaged, tied up, as it were—somebody's property. He must buy presents and rings and think of furniture. Never in his life had he thought about furniture. Even at college he had not, as many of the men did, troubled how his diggings were arranged.

He passed a man in the street carrying a kitchen safe. He tried to think what a safe was meant for and realized that they would certainly have to have a safe. Some peramb—ors in a great shop caught his eye, and he blushed and looked obstinately on the other side of the road. He had postponed calling—he had not dared yet. He would never summon courage to behave as a lover should to such a wonderful piece of femininity.

He remembered now that her eyes were gray and serious and laughing all at once; that she had a delightful, petulant mouth. The thought of her was sweet. The reality at present was terrifying. He could not yet face his betrothed. He must have time to get used to himself under these new conditions. Another day passed. On the fourth he dressed himself in a frock coat, adorned his buttonhole with a bouquet and started for her house.

When he arrived as far as the street in which she lived, he turned round and went to the club. There was a note from her—three days old. Again he flushed and thrust it into his pocket. He went out, and in the busy traffic of the streets read his first love letter from Maisie:

DEAR MR. SANDS—How chivalrous and nice of you! It was a bet, you know.

He did not read any more, but strode homeward. He had been a pretty kind of fool anyhow—a vain ass too. As if a beautiful girl like that—then he began to laugh. At any rate, he was free again—free! But somehow he wasn't quite sure that he wanted to be so very free. The furniture had begun to interest him.

They met the next evening at Lady Vaughan's. She received him with a very bright smile, and they danced. They danced several times, and then he said at the end, "I suppose you couldn't care for me, could you?" And she colored all over and said, "Oh, no, I couldn't—not anyhow in the world!"

Fate threw them together. They constantly met. She tried to avoid him, but he would not let her, and she ceased at last to try. At the end of three months he again asked her to be his wife. The tears crept into her eyes then, and she said, "You are very kind and chivalrous, and I am very grateful, but I can't—indeed I can't!" So that he went away conscious that there was a barrier between them he could not break down. He went abroad with Welby and proved a preposterously dull companion.

"She will never have me," he said one day irrelevantly. "I believe it's all because of that confounded telegram."

"Most likely."

"What shall I do?"

"Forget her."

"That's what I have been trying to do, but she's crept somehow into my heart, and I can't."

"Wire, then!"

"What?"

"What she wired to you."

* * * * * * *

Maisie was sitting with Mrs. Hamlin, and her pretty face was even paler than on the memorable occasion of the sending of the telegrams. "Ah," she said, "it is a pity! I care for him so much—so much—and it could never be now! Could it?"

"It's rather difficult," said Mrs. Hamlin. "How mad of us all to have let you do it! We didn't realize till the things were gone. Your spirits carried us away. He's abroad, isn't he?"

"Yes, and I can't bear it, but I must. That's life, isn't it?" she said, with a little sad smile. "We all manage to bear what we can't." And then a telegram came, reply paid.

"What is it?" said Mrs. Hamlin.

"He has wired. Look!"

"And what are you going to say?"

The girl sat down upon her heels upon the floor and looked first into the fire and then at Mrs. Hamlin. "I think I ought to be polite. Don't you?" she said. "He was to me."

"Yes," said Mrs. Hamlin, "I think you should be polite."

And Miss Maisie was.—Westminster Budget.

For Summer Lounging.

Just now, with summer on its way, big, luxurious chairs in rattan begin to look inviting. One comfortable, cool looking affair is enameled in gray green and has cushions of the same color in china silk attached to it. Other chairs are painted wood brown, some are forest green and some are red. The cushions are sometimes covered in denim and sometimes in cool, striped, slippery Indian grass cloth.

For the summer drawing room spindling chairs are pretty and dainty looking, even though they do not seem particularly useful. Still there's not much to be said in favor of the little chairs, even though the various monarchies are held responsible. They boast choice bits of delicate brocade or at times priceless tapestries, which gives one a chance to murmur an appreciative bit of tapestry jargon.—New York Journal.

Cruelty to Goldfish.

It may not be generally known that there is cruelty in the keeping of goldfish. Half of such captives die from sheer want of rest. As fish have eyes so formed that they cannot endure the light, in a glass vessel they are in an entirely wrong place, as is evident from the way in which they dash about and go around and round until fairly worn out.

LEGAL.

Ordinance No. 53.

An Ordinance calling a special election in the City of Sonoma, submitting to the qualified electors of said city at said election the proposition to incur a municipal debt aggregating Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars for the object and purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing a permanent system of municipal waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, and all other things whatsoever necessary for the construction and completion of public waterworks for the said city and its inhabitants, and for the construction and completion of said waterworks, to supply said city and the inhabitants thereof with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water for domestic use and for the use of the Fire Department, and for flushing sewers, sprinkling streets and other purposes.

SECTION IV.

The estimated cost of the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of said system of water works, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof and of all other things and acts whatsoever necessary for the proper use thereof, and of the whole of said contemplated system of water works is Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars.

SECTION V.

That the acquisition, construction and completion of said system of water works by said city is necessary for the following reasons:

First—That said city has no water works in its possession or under its control.

Second—That the supply of water now and hitherto furnished to said city and its inhabitants is and for many years last past has been wholly insufficient for domestic use, for the use of the Fire Department, sprinkling streets, flushing sewers, and other great necessities, and is liable to give out entirely.

Third—That the water now and hitherto supplied to said city and its inhabitants by the existing water company is unsuitable for domestic use.

Fourth—That it is necessary and for the best interests of said city, and the inhabitants thereof, and the public interest and necessity demand that a sufficient supply of pure, fresh water be furnished said city and the inhabitants thereof for domestic use, sprinkling streets, flushing sewers, for the Fire Department and other great necessities.

SECTION VI.

It is hereby determined and declared that the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of said system of water works, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for supplying water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, is too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual revenue and income of said city; that said Ordinance No. 52, so passed as aforesaid, was thereafter and on the seventeenth day of March, A. D., 1897, duly approved in writing by the Executive of said City of Sonoma, viz: by the President of the said Board of Trustees; and that said Ordinance No. 52 was thereafter in accordance with the order and direction of said Board of Trustees, by the City Clerk caused to be published, and was duly published as provided by law, for two weeks consecutively, to wit: Commencing on the 20th day of March, A. D., 1897, and ending on the 3d day of April, 1897, in THE SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE, a weekly newspaper of general circulation published in the said City of Sonoma, and as often as said newspaper was published during that time, to-wit: On the 20th day of March, 1897, the 27th day of March, 1897, and on the 3rd day of April, 1897, such dates being the days of publication of said newspaper; and whereas said Board of Trustees did, by resolution duly passed by the vote of more than two-thirds of all the members thereof, authorize the Committee on Water Works to secure the services of a competent engineer to assist them in their efforts, and whereas said committee did authorize, direct and employ Otto Von Geldern and C. E. Grunsky, competent civil engineers, who had theretofore had successful experience in the work of the acquisition, construction and completion of permanent systems of waterworks to make, prepare and submit to said Board of Trustees plans and estimates of the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of a permanent system of waterworks to supply said city and the inhabitants thereof with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water; that the said Otto Von Geldern and C. E. Grunsky did make, prepare and submit to the said Board of Trustees plans and estimates of the cost of such a system of waterworks; that the said Board of Trustees did, by resolution duly passed by a vote of more than two-thirds of the members thereof, receive, accept and approve said plans and estimates; that as shown by said plans and estimates and as is now hereby determined, the maximum cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of a permanent system of waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water-rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, will amount in the aggregate to Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars; that the entire assessed value of all the real and personal property of and in said city is not in excess of three hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars; that the entire annual income and revenue of said city has hitherto been and now is the sum not to exceed Two Thousand Dollars; that there is now no outstanding, unpaid indebtedness of, or due from, said city; that the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of said system of waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, will not exceed and will be less than 15 per cent. of the assessed value of all the real and personal property of and in said city.

SECTION II.

Now, therefore, in consideration of the premises, and in pursuance of the acts, ordinances, resolutions and proceedings aforesaid, and of the laws and statutes in such cases made and provided, a special election is hereby ordered and called to be held and conducted in and for said City of Sonoma, California, at the time and in the manner hereinafter fixed, designated and described; at which special election there shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the said City of Sonoma, and there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of said city to be voted upon at said special election as hereinafter provided, the proposition of incurring a debt amounting to Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars by said City of Sonoma, for the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of said permanent system of water works, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof by the said City of Sonoma and its inhabitants.

SECTION III.

The objects and purposes for which said indebtedness is proposed to be incurred are as follows: The acquisition, construction and completion by said City of Sonoma of said permanent system of waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same and connected with the use thereof as aforesaid, and to do and perform all acts and things whatsoever necessary for the construction and completion of public waterworks for the said city and its inhabitants, and for the construction and completion of said waterworks, to supply said city and the inhabitants thereof with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water for domestic use and for the use of the Fire Department, and for flushing sewers, sprinkling streets and other purposes.

SECTION IV.

The estimated cost of the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of said system of water works, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof and of all other things and acts whatsoever necessary for the proper use thereof, and of the whole of said contemplated system of water works is Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars.

That the acquisition, construction and completion of said system of water works by said city is necessary for the following reasons:

First—That said city has no water works in its possession or under its control.

Fourth—That it is necessary and for the best interests of said city, and the inhabitants thereof, and the public interest and necessity demand that a sufficient supply of pure, fresh water be furnished said city and the inhabitants thereof for domestic use, sprinkling streets, flushing sewers, for the Fire Department and other great necessities.

Grunsky, competent civil engineers, who had theretofore had successful experience in the work of the acquisition, construction and completion of permanent systems of waterworks to make, prepare and submit to said Board of Trustees plans and estimates of the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of a permanent system of waterworks to supply said city and the inhabitants thereof with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water; that the said Otto Von Geldern and C. E. Grunsky did make, prepare and submit to the said Board of Trustees plans and estimates of the cost of such a system of waterworks; that the said Board of Trustees did, by resolution duly passed by a vote of more than two-thirds of the members of said Board of Trustees, and there duly held, determine and adjudge that the public interest and necessity of the City of Sonoma, demand, and the public interest and necessity of said city do in fact demand the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of said permanent system of municipal waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, will amount in the aggregate to Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars; that the entire assessed value of all the real and personal property of and in said city is not in excess of three hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars; that the entire annual income and revenue of said city has hitherto been and now is the sum not to exceed Two Thousand Dollars; that there is now no outstanding, unpaid indebtedness of, or due from, said city; that the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of said system of waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, will not exceed and will be less than 15 per cent. of the assessed value of all the real and personal property of and in said city.

SECTION II.

Now, therefore, in consideration of the premises, and in pursuance of the acts, ordinances, resolutions and proceedings aforesaid, and of the laws and statutes in such cases made and provided, a special election is hereby ordered and called to be held and conducted in and for said City of Sonoma, California, at the time and in the manner hereinafter fixed, designated and described; at which special election there shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the said City of Sonoma, and there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of said city to be voted upon at said special election as hereinafter provided, the proposition of incurring a debt amounting to Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars by said City of Sonoma, for the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of said permanent system of water works, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof by the said City of Sonoma and its inhabitants.

SECTION III.

The objects and purposes for which said indebtedness is proposed to be incurred are as follows: The acquisition, construction and completion by said City of Sonoma of said permanent system of waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same and connected with the use thereof as aforesaid, and to do and perform all acts and things whatsoever necessary for the construction and completion of public waterworks for the said city and its inhabitants, and for the construction and completion of said waterworks, to supply said city and the inhabitants thereof with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water for domestic use and for the use of the Fire Department, and for flushing sewers, sprinkling streets and other purposes.

SECTION IV.

The estimated cost of the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of said system of water works, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof and of all other things and acts whatsoever necessary for the proper use thereof, and of the whole of said contemplated system of water works is Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars.

SECTION V.

That the acquisition, construction and completion of said system of water works by said city is necessary for the following reasons:

First—That said city has no water works in its possession or under its control.

Second—That the supply of water now and hitherto furnished to said city and its inhabitants is and for many years last past has been wholly insufficient for domestic use, for the use of the Fire Department, sprinkling streets, flushing sewers, and other great necessities, and is liable to give out entirely.

Third—That the water now and hitherto supplied to said city and its inhabitants by the existing water company is unsuitable for domestic use.

Fourth—That it is necessary and for the best interests of said city, and the inhabitants thereof, and the public interest and necessity demand that a sufficient supply of pure, fresh water be furnished said city and the inhabitants thereof for domestic use, sprinkling streets, flushing sewers, for the Fire Department and other great necessities.

SECTION VI.

It is hereby determined and declared that the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of said system of water works, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for supplying water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, is too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual revenue and income of said city; that said Ordinance No. 52, so passed as aforesaid, was thereafter and on the seventeenth day of March, A. D., 1897, duly approved in writing by the Executive of said City of Sonoma, viz: by the President of the said Board of Trustees; and that said Ordinance No. 52 was thereafter in accordance with the order and direction of said Board of Trustees, by the City Clerk caused to be published, and was duly published as provided by law, for two weeks consecutively, to wit: Commencing on the 20th day of March, A. D., 1897, and ending on the 3d day of April, 1897, in THE SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE, a weekly newspaper of general circulation published in the said City of Sonoma, and as often as said newspaper was published during that time, to-wit: On the 20th day of March, 1897, the 27th day of March, 1897, and on the 3rd day of April, 1897, such dates being the days of publication of said newspaper; and whereas said Board of Trustees did, by resolution duly passed by the vote of more than two-thirds of all the members thereof, authorize the Committee on Water Works to secure the services of a competent engineer to assist them in their efforts, and whereas said committee did authorize, direct and employ Otto Von Geldern and C. E. Grunsky, competent civil engineers, who had theretofore had successful experience in the work of the acquisition, construction and completion of permanent systems of waterworks to make, prepare and submit to said Board of Trustees plans and estimates of the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of a permanent system of waterworks to supply said city and the inhabitants thereof with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water; that the said Otto Von Geldern and C. Grunsky did make, prepare and submit to the said Board of Trustees plans and estimates of the cost of such a system of waterworks; that the said Board of Trustees did, by resolution duly passed by a vote of more than two-thirds of the members of said Board of Trustees, and there duly held, determine and adjudge that the public interest and necessity of the City of Sonoma, demand, and the public interest and necessity of said city do in fact demand the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of said permanent system of municipal waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water-rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, will amount in the aggregate to Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars; that the entire assessed value of all the real and personal property of and in said city is not in excess of three hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars; that the entire annual income and revenue of said city has hitherto been and now is the sum not to exceed Two Thousand Dollars; that there is now no outstanding, unpaid indebtedness of, or due from, said city; that the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of said system of waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, will not exceed and will be less than 15 per cent. of the assessed value of all the real and personal property of and in said city.

The estimated cost of the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of said system of water works, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof and of all other things and acts whatsoever necessary for the proper use thereof, and of the whole of said contemplated system of water works is Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars.

NEW ROAD LAW.

THE new road law is a puzzler and the Boards of Supervisors in all the counties in the State are at sea in the matter of road work. In Alameda county all road work ceased last Tuesday. On that day the Clark road law went into effect. The law is inoperative in the opinion of many Boards of Supervisors, and Alameda county has decided to test the case in the courts. The law provides the election or selection of a Board of Trustees in each county and the road work is to be taken out of the hands of Boards of Supervisors and placed in charge of the Trustees. The Boards of Trustees have never been elected, hence the difficulty.

DURRANT, the vile slayer of Blanche Lamont, will expiate his terrible crime on the gallows at San Quentin prison next Friday. Gov. Budd, after carefully reviewing the testimony in the case, has sternly refused to interfere, and the condemned man's last hope is gone. It may appear barbarous to the sentimentally inclined for Warden Hale to take this seemingly pious young man out of his cell and break his neck, but when one's thoughts revert to the poor, little innocent girl, who was shown no pity by this fiend in human shape, it seems a humane act to hang him. In order to pay the full penalty for his crime Durrant ought to submit to torture.

MRS. CATHERINE HUGHES, who conducts a vegetable garden three miles east of Ukiah on Russian river, has been left two gold mines and an income of $1,000 a month by the death of an uncle in Mexico. Mrs. Hughes' husband died a year or two ago, since which time she has had a severe tussel with adversity.

COUNTY GLEANINGS.

Michael Devine, aged 60 years and a native of Ireland, died at the County Hospital Tuesday afternoon.

Judge Seawell has granted Ethel Campbell a divorce from Ross Campbell on the grounds of extreme cruelty. Campbell is the well-known attorney of Santa Rosa.

Jacob Eihleman, an infirm and penniless old man, committed suicide in Petaluma, on Friday of last week, by first cutting his throat with a razor and then hanging himself to the rafters of a small shanty, in which he lived.

Principal F. A. Cromwell of Petaluma, who has been among the leading aspirants for the office of County Superintendent of Schools, to succeed E. W. Davis, has announced his withdrawal from the contest. Mr. Cromwell did not make public his reasons for doing so.

William R. Boyes died at the County Hospital Saturday. He had been a sufferer from cancer in the face. The deceased was the father of officer John Boyes of Santa Rosa. He came to Sonoma county in 1851. He lived for many years near Sebastopol and was well-known and respected throughout the county. Mr. Boyes was a native of Virginia and was aged sixty-five years.

A report has reached Healdsburg that a rich ledge of copper has been located on Pina creek, ten miles from that city. Years ago prospectors did some preliminary work, but the lead was abandoned. Recently the Grizzly Bear Mining Company was organized. Tunnels run into the mountain several hundred feet opened up a ledge of copper eighteen feet wide. It is said that the ore will yield rock worth $18 a ton.

Tossed on the Foaming Billows.

You may never have been, but if you cross the Atlantic, no matter how smooth the watery expanse, without sea sickness you are—well, a lucky voyager, that is all. Old tars who have spent their lives on the ocean waves, who were almost born, so to speak, with their "sea legs on," suffer now and then from sea sickness in very temestuous weather. Sea Captains, tourists, commercial travelers and yachtmen say that there is no finer safeguard against nausea than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and it has been equally reliable as a preventive by invalids who travel by steamboat and railroad, and who sometimes suffer so much in those conveyances as ocean travelers do in steamships. Biliousness, constipation, sick headache and disorder of the stomach caused by oppressive climatic influences or unwholesome or unaccustomed food or water, always yield to the Bitters speedily. This popular medicine also remedies rheumatic, kidney and nervous disorders, and the infirmities infirmities incident to increasing years.

SONOMA VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES—THE SCHOOL DOES ITSELF PROUD.

The Programme — Address by Principal Benj. Weed.

The commencement exercises of the Sonoma Valley Union High School, held last Monday evening, was a brilliant affair. The young students and alumni had artistically draped the hall in the colors of the class of '97—red and white—and transformed it into a most significant emblem.

The following programme was carried out :

1. Invocation.....Rev. O. E. Hotle
2. Address of Welcome..Miss E. Appleton
3. Class History.....Mr. Malcolm Elliott
4. Music.....Orchestra
5. Essay.....Miss Marcella Glazier
6. Poem.....Mr. Alex. D. Gordenker
7. Prophecy.....Miss Cecilia Granice
8. Valedictory.....Mr. Frido Clewe
9. Music.....Orchestra
10. Address.....Rev. O. E. Hotle
11. Presentation of Diplomas.....Hon. Robt. Howe
12. Class Song.....Class of '97

Mr. Alexander Demetrius Gordenker was a good class poet and the Welcome, History, Essay, Prophecy and Valedictory showed great capabilities on the part of the authors. Presentation of diplomas, followed by an address by Rev. O. E. Hotle and remarks by the principal, Ben Weed, concluded the program. Dancing followed and throughout the joyous evening the cry of the High School rent the air.

Rah! rah! rah!
So! no! ma!
High School! High School!
Zip! Boom! Ah!

The young lady graduates were all prettily gowned in white and looked really charming as they tripped the light fantastic that memorable evening. Sonoma will lose some of its most progressive young people in these students, many of whom leave us to attend college.

Mr. Benj. Weed, the principal of the school, delivered the following closing address. The work he has done for our High School and his scholarly address stamp him as one of the leading educators of Sonoma county. Mr. Weed said:

Citizens of Sonoma Valley—The President of your Board of Trustees has made such statement as he deemed proper concerning the condition of the High School, so I shall not burden your attention with any further words on that subject other than this: In the opinion of the University examiners the school is in a good and prosperous state. The morale of the school is excellent, better than that of any other school with which I am acquainted. That the school is in this position is due to a large extent to my colleague, who has been indefatigable in his efforts. Concerning his work I cannot speak too highly, and for his counsel and assistance I now thank him. On this occasion I am desirous of addressing some few unconnected remarks to this class of young men and young women.

I have been with you now for three years—the first three years of my acquaintance with the world as men of practical affairs know it—the world into which you now are about to enter, standing as you do upon its very threshold. Fresh with experiences that are soon to be yours I feel that I may be able to give you some counsel that will be of value to you, seeing things as I do from a vantage point not far removed from your own.

The object of education is to realize and make efficient our God-given powers, and to understand that the knowledge of truth and fealty to it is the high aim of man. In as great measure as possible this has been done for you in your High School course. But education is not limited by the walls of any school building nor to any system of teaching. It is a matter of life growth. An attempt has been made to Orient your minds, to let you see things in their proper relations. In this I hope that success has been attained; but the future alone can determine the justice of this hope. It is concerning this future now upon you that I, in the language of Œdipus, fain would give you much counsel—counsel from experience, short though it be, counsel from the intuitions that come to us all, faster and faster as the years lead on. In so far as I know, and I believe that I speak not without reason, your thoughts are clean. Let me urge upon you to keep them so. As years add to your comprehension you will come more fully to know that one of the goals toward which civilization is striving is cleanness. Though there are some who cannot see that any advance is being made, the lofty minds that occupy the mountain tops of thought can see that the world is cleaner than it was; that it is growing purer day by day. Be you all cleansers of the world. Doubt not your ability; keep yourselves clean and you will be an influence making for cleanness. Have generous sympathies; do not be narrow in your tastes. If a thing does not appeal to you as being beautiful and good do not be hasty to condemn it. Seek for the good in all things. Have a charitable mind. It is better to be strenuous in your advocacy of the good than loud in your denunciation of the bad. It is of more avail to be good than not to be bad. Let your end be to attain perfection rather than to avoid imperfections.

During your life you will come in contact with many people. Cultivate their friendship, not for selfish reasons, in the narrow sense, but because by means of friendship you gain access to the real in life. What we are commonly pleased to call the realities of life are in reality the superficialities. We hedge ourselves in, we guard our hearts with a multitude of manner, of customs, idle words, courtesies, that reveal nothing. The hopes, the likes, the dislikes, the longings, the loves, the thinkings of men, these are the real things. Knowing these in a friend, we more rightly can order our own. A true friend is a priceless treasure. Do not bear hate for any one. Hate cankers the heart, it sours life, it clouds our vision of the good. The living of life is like the climbing of a mountain: As you ascend the air becomes clearer, you can see farther, your horizon expands, and when you have reached the top you stand an inspiration to all; you can captain and direct the energies of those who follow, and it is sweet to help a fellow man. I say climb high! Let me leave you with this thought from the Œdipus: "Thou did'st thy work, and now be equal to thyself."

SONOMA COUNTY vs. GIL P. HALL

Suit to Recover the Sum of $4,613.89.

The trial of the second civil suit against ex-Recorder Gil P. Hall and his bondsmen opened in Department Two of the Superior Court on Wednesday morning.

A little sensation was caused before the hour for the convening of court by the filing of an affidavit made by Hall, in which Hall claimed that there was ill feeling between himself and Judge Dougherty and desiring that another Judge try the case.

Some time ago Judge Dougherty invited the Hon. John M. Mannon, Superior Judge of Mendocino county, to try the case in his stead. He accepted and at 10 o'clock Judge Dougherty from the bench made the order that Judge Mannon try the case. At a quarter past 10 o'clock Judge Mannon took his seat and the trial began.

Attorney J. R. Leppo for the plaintiff, Sonoma county, asked his honor to continue the case until half-past 2 o'clock, as they had anticipated that the morning session would be taken up with the discussion of certain matters which had been averted. His honor granted the continuance.

This action is brought by the County of Sonoma against Gilbert P. Hall and his bondsmen to recover the sum of $4,613.89, alleged shortages in the accounts of the Recorder's office during the whole of Hall's second term—that is, from the first Monday in January, 1895, with full legal interest on the same.

District Attorney Emmet Seawell and Attorney J. R. Leppo are appearing for plaintiff, and Attorneys John P. Rodgers of Petaluma and Anson Hilton of San Francisco appear for Hall and the bondsmen. —Press.

BOODLE.

Grand Expose—Where Does the "Index-Tribune" Get Off, Anyhow.

In its fight to secure for Sonoma an adequate supply of water for fire and domestic purposes the INDEX-TRIBUNE has been accused by a few people in this town, who are evidently judging other people by themselves, of standing in with L. L. Lewis of the Yalupa Water Company in trying to foist his system upon Sonoma. It has even been hinted and in a sneaky way charged that there was boodle behind the whole business, the head and front of our offending being that we simply considered the Lewis offer to supply this town with water as a cold business proposition, and one deserving the serious consideration of every one having the interests of this town at heart.

For the past month or two we have been sending Mr. Lewis the INDEX-TRIBUNE, who never has been a patron of this paper. We admit that in putting Mr. Lewis' name temporarily on our mailing list it was done in the hopes that he might become a subscriber, inasmuch as he had a water proposition before the people of Sonoma and would like to keep informed as to what they were going to do about it. But our hopes were doomed to disappointment as the following letter from Mr. Lewis will show:

SACRAMENTO, May 30, 1897.

H. H. GRANICE, Ed. "Sonoma Index-Tribune—My Dear Sir: You have been sending your paper for a few weeks to me without my order. Now please let me know what you are going to charge for it for I don't want any running bills. L. L. LEWIS.

This is boodle in the back of the neck, isn't it?

Grass Fire.

A grass fire broke out near Yalupa Station, on the line of the Southern Pacific road, on Monday last, which for a time threatened to sweep the entire valley. The fire was started by a spark from a passing locomotive of the Southern Pacific. Section foreman Nick Ahern of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway, whose track parellels the former road, discovered the fire and with his force of men succeeded, after a hard fight, in subduing the flames before much damage had been done.

Sonoma Grammar School.

The Sonoma Grammar School, Vernon Goodwin principal, has promoted the following scholars from the seventh to the eighth grade: Julie Granice, May Perry, Theo Bates, Frieda Wegner, Chloe Griffith, James Dormann and Fred H. Goess. The following have been recommended as graduates and will in all probability enter the High School next term: Horace Appleton, Fred Bulotti, Albert Campbell, Nettie Goess, Emma Greenberg, Artie Griffith, Milton McGimsey, Augustin Rouquie, Maud Tompkins, Rena Yates, Janet Campbell.

Elected Almost Unanimously.

B. F. Campbell, present Trustee of the Sonoma School District, was re-elected almost unanimously yesterday. He received 37 of the 44 votes polled.

Lost.

A black and white Esquimaux dog named Kemo. A liberal reward will be paid for its return to the owner Mr. W. F. Wade. *

The box sheet for the concert is now at Duhring's store, and those wishing seats would do well to get them before the choice seats have all been taken.

CITY TRUSTEES.

The Bond Election to be Held on July 12th.—That Street Sprinkling "Kick."

At a regular meeting of the City Trustees held last Wednesday evening a full Board was present, as follows: President Seipp and Trustees Poppe, Hartin, Bulotti and Modini.

After the reading and approval of the minutes of the previous meeting the following bills were allowed and ordered paid:

P. G. Keil, repairs	$ 1.00
R. A. Poppe, postage, etc	1.30
Payot, Upham & Co, assessment roll	9.00
A. Janetti, Plaza contract	14.50
Wm. Glynn, labor	1.30
J. E. Robin, salary	15.00
S. Baccala, labor	1.00
Mrs. J. A. Poppe, supplies	1.35
G. S. Harris, street sprinkling	45.00
Total	$89.45

The Street Committee reported that Mr. Aguillon wants $15 per month for furnishing water to the city for sprinkling the streets. He is now paid $10. No action was taken in this matter.

The special committee appointed at the last meeting of the Board to inquire into the opening of First-street East from Schocken's corner to the depot grounds of the S. F. & N. P. Railway, reported that Mr. Schocken had presented a written proposition to the committee. The proposition, which was read by Clerk Poppe, was in substance as follows: Mr Schocken agrees to deed the street to the city provided the buildings on the same are removed by the Trustees, or he will move all the buildings for $150. That the street be run in a straight line to the railroad reservation, and that the same be graded and curbed within twelve months.

The committee also reported that Mr. Aguillon would give his portion of the street to the city gratis. On motion of Trustee Hartin, which received a second from Trustees Bulotti, the matter was laid over until the next meeting.

A petition was received signed by a number of property-owners on the north side of the Plaza asking and demanding that the streets on that side of the Plaza be given their share of the street sprinkling. G. S. Harris, who has the contract for sprinkling the streets, and who is doing the very best he can for $2 a day, explained that he was willing to sprinkle any streets as far as the two dollars would go and that he had no interest whatever in any particular street. The "kick" on street sprinkling was laid over until the next meeting.

The resolution introduced by Trustee Hartin at the last meeting of the Board in relation to calling a special election to select any one of the several water propositions before the people in the event of the bond election carrying was carried by the following vote: Ayes—Trustees Seipp, Hartin, Modini, Bulotti. No—Trustee Julius Poppe.

F. T. Duhring, attorney for the Board, explained that Ordinance No. 53 was invalid for reasons stated in the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of P. W. Murphy vs. the City of San Luis Obispo, filed May 20, 1897, and that it would be necessary to amend Sections 7 and 8 of said ordinance to conform to such conditions and republish the same. H. H. Granice was then called upon by the President and asked what it would cost to republish the ordinance and he answered "Nothing."

Trustee Hartin then introduced Ordinance No. 53 with the sections amended as follows: Section 7—After the word "Coin" in line 13 of the printed copy, striking out the words "of the" and adding the words "or lawful money of the United States"; also, in line 25, striking out the words "payable in like Gold Coin."

Section 8—Striking out the words "Fourteenth day of June, 1897," in line three of the printed copy and inserting in lieu thereof "twelfth day of July, 1897"; also in lines 11 and 12, striking out the words "fourteenth day of June, 1897," and inserting in lieu thereof "twelfth day of July, 1897." The ordinance as amended was then adopted by the following vote: Ayes—Trustees Seipp, Hartin, Modini and Bulotti. No—Trustee Julius Poppe.

The Street Committee was authorized to advertise for bids for cleaning all ditches belonging to the city and the City Marshal was instructed to notify all private owners of property to have all ditches running through their premises cleaned without delay.

F. T. Duhring, attorney for the Board, arose and announced that representatives of a proposed private water system were present and asked that a hearing be given them. Mr. S. Schocken, a prominent artestian well-owner, thereupon stated that he was prepared to act in the matter when it shall be advised that any proposition he might make will be entertained by the Trustees. The Board decided that the proposed new private water company be given until June 23rd, 1897, in which to submit to the Trustees a proposition with a guarantee of good faith in the sum of $1,000.

The Board then adjourned.

SCHELLVILLE SIFTINGS

Sarah Bentham of San Francisco is visiting Embarcadero friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ohm rode to Glen Ellen on their bicycles one day this week.

Joe. Kiser had one of his fingers badly bruised while playing baseball last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Donahue, accompanied by a party of relatives and friends, visited Mrs. M. Donahue last Sunday.

In the baseball game played at this place last Sunday between the Schellville nine and the Sonoma Baseball Club the former won, the score standing 40 to 21.

Captain Hauto of the schooner Four Sisters from now on will make daily trips to and from San Francisco. Large quantities of cherries are being shipped to the metropolis by schooner service, and in order to handle all orders the Captain was compelled to put on a daily service.

A grass fire on the Schell ranch, on Tuesday last, destroyed about fifteen acres of pasturage. The fire was started by a spark from a locomotive. At one time it looked as though the fire would devastate every ranch east of the Schell place, but owing to the prompt action of the section men and a large number of our people the fire was got under control.

The festive mosquito has made his annual appearance down this way and during the past week has been very much in evidence. The pesky little "critters" are attacking everything in sight with their sharp-pointed bills. It is said, although "Trilby" does not vouch for the truthfulness of the story, that they are even puncturing the tires of our local wheelmen. The Schellville "skeet" is a great bird.

The Cackling Club of this place gave a tea at Eden Dale on Thursday last in honor of Mrs. Henry B. Collier, who will shortly leave for Park City, Utah. The afternoon was spent in the rendering of a literary programme, after which a delicate menu was presented to the guests who had assembled in the flower-decorated dining room. Those present were Mrs. Robt. Howe, Mrs. M. Akers, Mrs. Chas. Ohm, Mrs. M. Goodman, Mrs. E. Cassebohm, Mrs. Jos. McMullen, Miss Howe, Miss M. Glaizer, Miss Z. Howe, Miss Humphreys, Miss Goodman, Miss Burke of Schellville and Mrs. Collier, Mrs. Glazier and Mrs. Thos. Spencer of San Francisco.

TRILBY.

Schellville, June 4, 1897.

Mr. Llewellyn Hughes, who is to play the obligato to Miss Hope's song, will also play with the first violins in the orchestra. There will be the usual social hop after the concert on June 18th at Union Hall.

The people of this valley are not likely to have an opportunity very soon to get as much music, entertainment and solid enjoyment for the money as they will get at the coming concert.

The Baccalauerate Sermon, preached last Sunday to the members of the Class of '97, Sonoma Valley High School, by Rev. C. E. Chase, was both impressive and instructive. The Congregational Church was handsomely trimmed in the class colors—the emblem of purity and courage—and a large congregation, with the interests of the class at heart, listened to the sermon.

G. M. Chase visited at the Seipp place a couple of days this week.

Mr. Bernhard Mollenhauer, the famous violinist, who is to play at the concert, is too well known to Sonoma people to need any introduction, and the announcement that he is to appear here will be welcome news to his many admirers.

The white cotillion and assembly given last Thursday evening by Miss Cecilia Granice, in honor of the Class of '97, Sonoma Valley Union High School, was a swell affair. "Morning Glory Villa" looked like a garden in fairy land with its pretty decorations and vari-colored lanterns, and the sweet strains of orchestral music, wafted out upon the air, lent additional enchantment to the scene. The guests arrived at the appointed time and soon all were lost in the dreamy waltz. Deux temps galore followed until ten o'clock, when the cotillion was announced. The young ladies were costumed in white and the young gentlemen wore white trousers and black cutaway coats. The figures danced were designed by Vernon Goodwin and were very pretty and well adapted for the occasion. The chariot figure was one of the prettiest. The cotillion was lead by Miss Meta Stofen of Santa Rosa and Kurt Schluss of San Francisco. Those in the first two sets were Misses Cady, Stofen, Duhring, Granice, Church, Clewe, Carpenter, Appleton, Johnson and J. Granice. Messrs. R. M. Sims, H. Hyde, W. Thompson of Santa Rosa, L. Ramsdell of San Francisco, K. Schluss of San Francisco, A. Schell, H. Appleton, Jr., W. Clewe, B. Jones, and J. Henderson. After the cotillion general dancing was indulged in until one o'clock, when all took their departure. This event is acknowledged by all as the most brilliant and novel ever given in the valley.

RAISING GOLDFISH.

THE TWO LARGEST FARMS IN THE WORLD ARE IN INDIANA.

Correcting Some Popular Errors About These Finny Beauties—The Kaiser Has Great Difficulty In Fighting Off the Pest World—Goldfish With Many Tales.

Goldfish are so extremely common nowadays that few people ever stop to wonder where they come from or how they are raised. Comparatively little is generally known about the little cold blooded vertebrates that swim about in the aquariums in so many homes. The pets require a careful and systematic raising that is scarcely appreciated by those who expect to get them for small prices of dealers in the city.

The largest goldfish farm in the world, if it may be called such, is located in Shelby county, Ind., about 80 miles from Indianapolis. Here the original goldfish men of the country have their propagating institution.

There are two farms, several miles apart, which are devoted to the different branches of the industry. In the north part of the county is one farm of eight or ten acres. The other is a few miles farther south and is about half again as large as the first one.

Today there are in the various ponds of Spring Lake fishery over 200,000 fish, from which specimens are constantly being sent to every state and territory of the Union. It is even said that some of the finest fish in the royal aquariums of Europe were raised by Mr. Shoup and his partner at this farm.

On each of the farms spoken of are a large number of small ponds, some of them not much larger than ten feet square. These ponds are all connected with each other by little channels, so that the water and fish can be let from one to the other without the least difficulty.

The breeding ponds, which are, of course, the most important, are protected from the wind and cold by high embankments around the edges. This is all the protection that is necessary for the fish, even in the winter time, so it is seen that, although the fish are undoubtedly delicate, they are much more hardy than is generally supposed.

Several times a year the fish are sorted in the different ponds and classified so that the largest and finest ones will be together, and those which will not bring such good prices will be by themselves. Many people suppose that when the goldfish is first hatched from the egg it has the peculiar pretty markings on its scales which make it so beautiful and valuable.

This is not the case. In its youth in reality the fish is just the same as any ordinary and everyday fish, and looks like it for all the world. Even an expert could scarcely tell it from the little minnows which are found in any stream. They are of a whitish, silvery color, and have not the least evidence of the beautiful hues which they will later assume.

Sometimes, however, the goldfish grower is sadly disappointed in finding that his fish fail to acquire the golden tint for which he has so long been looking in vain. There have been many instances time and again in which the fish never did change to the reddish color, but grew to be several years old, retaining their white, silvery, youthful complexion. Ordinarily, however, the fish develop the golden shade in less than a year.

First, they begin getting dark, sometimes becoming almost black. From the dark complexion they begin turning to the reddish shade, and finally come out in all their glory, full fledged goldfish.

The food has not, as many people suppose, the least thing to do with coloring the fish. All the fish are fed exactly the same thing, toasted bread two or three times a week, and nothing else is given them for their subsistence. The sun seems to be the necessary agent and the only one to complete the scheme of nature, and even this sometimes does not work successfully.

The greatest difficulty with which the goldfish raiser has to contend is the pest world. Snakes, cats, coons, frogs and insects innumerable are all fell destroyers of the goldfish, and the crawfish is by no means a second in the destruction which he can work when he gets in the neighborhood of the finny tribe. Some one must be kept constantly on watch at the season of the year when these insects and little animals abound to see that they do not get into the water of the pond where the fish are.

The sting of some insects will kill a fish in almost every instance. Snake feeders and some other well known insects fly close to the surface of the water in the summer time and with the greatest ease touch the tiny little fish swimming near the surface of the pool. An egg is laid on the fish or a stinger inserted, and either will invariably prove fatal.

The freaks and unusual developments in the fish are the varieties which will always bring the best prices in the market. Odd and rare colors and spots upon the scales are the marks which are preferred by fanciers. Unusual shapes in the fishes are equally popular with oddities in colors and will cause a fish to bring as good a price as if it had orange or purple scales.

In physical developments the great varieties are in respect to the tail. One never finds two headed fish, but those with more than one tail are plentiful. Two, three, four and five tails are quite often found on the fish and sometimes even six, but the latter is very rare. Of course a fish with six tails would bring a handsome price in any market.

Goldfish are often killed by overattention, but sometimes by lack of attention. The two things which above all should be avoided are overfeeding them and failure to keep fresh water in the aquarium. An even, moderate temperature should be maintained, and they should be kept in the dark at night.—Chicago Tribune.

LEZE MAJESTY.

How a Subject of the King of Belgium Played It.

It is a curious reflection that men who will face death with impunity are yet absolutely aghast with fear when brought into the presence of the great ones of the earth. "Such great divinity doth hedge a king" that few men would venture to assert their independence or the right of their manhood if a sovereign's view were opposed to theirs.

This is, no doubt, an inheritance from the days of feudalism, when the monarch was indeed the liege lord of all the people. Among the few, however, whose names have come down to an admiring posterity because they had the stamina to rely on their own rights and assert their own desires must be mentioned the name of M. Vandendriesche, a subject of the king of Belgium.

Some time ago he saw a piece of ground at Ostend the position of which pleased him. As luck had it, it chanced to be directly in front of the king's villa. This fact, we may be sure, did not make it less desirable in the gentleman's eyes. He called in the aid of architects and builders and proceeded to erect a house on it after his own heart. Unfortunately, however, his majesty looked out of the windows of his villa one day and found that his subject's home, if it had not emulated Aladdin's and sprung up in a night, at all events interfered with his view, as did that miraculous structure with the view of the other sovereign.

The king naturally remonstrated at this want of consideration in a subject, and, no doubt, expected that the remonstrance would have good effect. So, indeed, it seemed, for M. Vandendriesche engaged a number of workmen, who proceeded to pull down the edifice, which had only recently been finished.

Alas for the credulity of the human mind, even when that mind belongs to a potentate of the earth! As soon as the foundations of the building had been razed to the ground, and the king, no doubt, congratulated himself on that uninterrupted view of the country which he had had before, he was startled to find that an increased army of builders arrived to augment the number of those who had been employed.

Oddly enough also, a huge quantity of bricks and mortar appeared on the scene. These bricks the masons began to use in the most unaccountable manner possible, piling them one on top of the other with mortar between. It looked as if they were building a wall. They were. Slowly, as is the manner of masons in every country of the world, the wall grew by inches. Instead of a villa a 12-story fireproof building was erected, which effectually prevented his majesty from seeing the country which lies on the other side of the property of his recalcitrant subject.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The Shirt Waist Collar.

It would be interesting to trace many of the so called caprices of fashion to their real source. Many, as is well known, are of historic origin and received their inspiration in the whim of some royal or other distinguished personage. The introduction of the separate collar shirt waist, which has and is enjoying a great vogue, was, it is said, due in the first place to the laziness of a cutter in one of the fashionable tailor shops where ladies' waists are made. He suggested and advocated the style to save work, it was discreetly talked up by the head saleswomen, who received the customers, and the thing was done—well done, too, most women will testify.

The Peabody Fund.

George Peabody's gift of $2,500,000 for London workingmen's houses has increased to $6,000,000 in the 24 years since his death. Last year the trustees of the fund provided 11,367 rooms, besides bathrooms, lavatories and laundries; 19,854 persons occupied them. The death rate of infants in the buildings is 4 per cent below the average for London.
